

Snooky Game Boards Introduction

Snooky the Snail is hot on the trail...to fluency! These new game boards are a wonderful companion to the Snooky the Snail's Preschool Fluency Worksheets, but they can also be used just by themselves, with students from preschool to second grade. The Snooky the Snail Game Board Instructions are designed to work at your student's skill level: Word, Phrase, or Sentence. This way you can individualize for students working at different levels. As you play the game, keep your game booklet open to the board you are using and supplement play with a question at the appropriate level.

GAME PLAY:

Each student takes a turn at the spinner. The student moves that number of spaces...slowly...to encourage slow, easy speech! Snooky doesn't want you to bump into anything, especially with your words!

The player can answer the question on the board, or the SLP may choose one from the booklet. Since another child in the group might land on the same square on a different turn, the extra questions in the booklet allow you to have another question for that same square. If your student is at the word, phrase, or sentence level, the question can be customized for him or her!

Play ends when one student gets to the end of the trail. You can have this be by an exact roll, or whoever gets there first! This is often determined at the discretion of the SLP in terms of the age range and dynamics of the particular group.

Most importantly, your students should have fun and find success in their slow, easy speech. The fun will not be getting to the finish line FAST, but inching their way to successful speech!

So, have fun at a "snail's pace" with Snooky the Snail game boards!
